INTRODUCTION

This booklet has been prepared as a service for Illinois CPA firms enrolled in the AICPA and Illinois CPA Society Peer Review Programs. It contains frequently asked questions about the programs administered by the Illinois CPA Society (the “Society”) and a directory of firms performing peer reviews of other firms in Illinois.

The directory is not intended to be all-inclusive and includes only those firms that responded to a Society questionnaire and contributed to the production costs of the booklet. The listed firms are not necessarily endorsed by the AICPA or the Society. Specific qualifications for reviewers are set forth in the AICPA Standards for Performing and Reporting on Peer Reviews. You are ultimately responsible for ascertaining that the reviewer or review team engaged to perform your firm’s peer review has the appropriate qualifications.

We welcome your comments about the program. If you would like more information, please contact the Society’s Peer Review Department:

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT THE PEER REVIEW PROGRAM ADMINISTERED BY THE ILLINOIS CPA SOCIETY

WHAT'S NEW?

Electronic Peer Review Documents

For all peer reviews of AICPA member firms commencing on or after July 1, 2013, peer reviewers are required to use the online Matter for Further Consideration (MFC) and Disposition of Matter for Further Consideration (DMFC) forms found in the AICPA's Peer Review Information System Manager (PRISM).

Reviewed firms and sole practitioners must register on AICPA.org at least 24 hours before commencement of the review - if they haven't already registered.

The online forms will not be used for peer reviews of non-AICPA member firms until late 2014.

For further details, please refer to the AICPA website at <http://www.aicpa.org/InterestAreas/PeerReview/Community/PeerReviewers/Pages/matters-for-further-consideration-project.aspx>.

Mandatory Peer Review for Illinois Licensure

For license renewals on or after July 1, 2012, firms and sole practitioners who provide services requiring an Illinois license (i.e., audits, reviews, and/or examinations of prospective financial information) must satisfactorily complete a peer review every three years. The Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation (IDFPR) adopted the AICPA Standards for Performing and Reporting on Peer Reviews as its minimum standards and approved the Illinois CPA Society as a qualified peer review administrator. For further details, please go to our website at <http://www.icpas.org/hc-peer-review.aspx?id=5503>.

Voluntary Disclosure of Peer Review Results for Licensure

The AICPA has implemented a new process called Peer Review Facilitated State Board Access (FSBA), which allows the voluntary disclosure of peer review results via a secure, state board of accountancy (BOA) limited-access website. The goal of this voluntary process is to create a nationally uniform system through which CPA firms can satisfy BOA peer review information submission requirements, increase transparency and retain control over confidential peer review information. For further details, please go to our website at <http://www.icpas.org/hc-peer-review.aspx?id=5751>.

PRACTICE-MONITORING

What is practice-monitoring?

Practice-monitoring, which includes peer review, focuses on monitoring individuals' and firms' conformity with professional standards and is one of the self-regulatory tools used by the profession to protect the CPA hallmark and the public interest. Self-regulation includes —

- The establishment of membership requirements
- The establishment of behavioral and technical standards
- Monitoring adherence to the standards
- A disciplinary system to deal with violations of the standards

Who has to enroll in a practice-monitoring program?

Firms (including sole practitioners) need to participate in a practice-monitoring program if –

- At least one partner wishes to retain his or her AICPA membership
- The firm wishes to hire or retain staff who are AICPA members
- The firm performs engagements under Government Auditing Standards (i.e., “Yellow Book”) issued by the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO)
- The firm performs services requiring a license in Illinois

What is the AICPA practice-monitoring requirement?

AICPA members active in the practice of public accounting must be associated with a firm that participates in an AICPA practice-monitoring program if the firm performs services within the scope of the peer review standards (essentially audits, reviews, compilations and/or attestation engagements) and issues reports purporting to be in accordance with AICPA professional standards.

A member can meet the requirement if his or her firm is enrolled in the AICPA Peer Review Program (hereinafter referred to as the “Program”), the objective of which is to help CPAs improve the services provided to clients and raise the quality and prestige of the CPA profession.

Does my firm need to enroll in a practice-monitoring program if we do not have an accounting or auditing practice?

No. Your firm is not required to enroll if you do not have an accounting or auditing practice. However, if your firm is engaged to perform an audit, review, compilation or attestation engagement, you should notify the AICPA Peer Review Division or the Illinois CPA Society Peer Review Department as soon as you accept such an engagement in order to schedule a peer review.

Is enrollment in a practice-monitoring program an Illinois CPA Society membership requirement?

No. Enrollment in an approved practice-monitoring program is not required for Society membership. However, if you elect to have the Illinois CPA Society administer your peer review, at least one owner of the firm must be a member of the Illinois CPA Society.

Is enrollment in a practice-monitoring program an Illinois licensing requirement?

Yes. For license renewals on or after July 1, 2012, firms and sole practitioners who provide services requiring an Illinois license (i.e., audits, reviews or examinations of prospective financial statements) must satisfactorily complete a peer review every three years. The Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation (IDFPR) has adopted the AICPA Standards for Performing and Reporting on Peer Reviews as its minimum standards and approved the Illinois CPA Society as a qualified peer review administrator.

How does my firm enroll?

Your firm needs to complete and submit a “Peer Review Programs Enrollment Form” to the Society’s Peer Review Department. The AICPA and Illinois CPA Society enrollment forms may be downloaded from the Society’s website at <http://www.icpas.org/hc-peer-review.aspx?id=5499>.

After enrolling, when might I expect my firm to have its first peer review and each subsequent review?

For AICPA membership purposes, your firm’s first peer review is due within eighteen months of the year-end of your firm’s first accounting or auditing engagement (eighteen months from the report date if it is an attestation engagement) or eighteen months of enrolling in the Program, whichever is earlier.

For state licensing purposes, firms and sole practitioners must have successfully completed a peer review prior to their license renewal period. Therefore, the due date of their first peer review may be less than eighteen months of enrolling in the Program.

Subsequent peer reviews ordinarily have a due date of three years and six months from the previous peer review year-end.

Will my peer review documents remain confidential?

A peer review must be conducted in conformity with the confidentiality requirements set forth in the AICPA Code of Professional Conduct. Information concerning the reviewed firm or any of its clients or personnel, including the findings of the review is confidential. Such information may not be disclosed by review team members to anyone not involved in carrying out the review or administering the Program, or used in any way not related to meeting the objectives of the Program. However, if your firm has enrolled in one or more of the voluntary audit quality centers of the AICPA, the results of your peer review will be made available to the general public in the Public File on the AICPA website.

GENERAL REVIEW INFORMATION

What types of peer review are available?

Under the AICPA Standards for Performing and Reporting on Peer Reviews (hereinafter referred to as the “Standards”), there are two types of reviews – system and engagement.

System

The objective of a system review is to provide the reviewer with a reasonable basis for expressing an opinion on whether, during the year under review – (a) the reviewed firm’s system of quality control for its accounting and auditing practice has been designed in accordance with quality control standards established by the AICPA and (b) the reviewed firm’s quality control policies and procedures were being complied with to provide the firm reasonable assurance of conforming with professional standards.

In a system review, the reviewer will study and evaluate a CPA firm’s quality control policies and procedures in effect during the peer review year. This includes interviewing firm personnel and examining administrative files. To evaluate the effectiveness of the system and the degree of compliance with the system, the reviewer will test a reasonable cross-section of the firm’s engagements with a focus on high-risk engagements in addition to significant risk areas where the possibility exists of engagements not being performed and/or reported on in accordance with professional standards in all material respects.

Engagement

The objective of an engagement review is to provide the reviewer with a reasonable basis for expressing limited assurance that (a) the financial statements or information and the related accountant’s report on the compilation, review, and attestation engagements the firm submits for review conform, in all material respects, with professional standards and (b) the reviewed firm’s documentation conforms with the requirements of professional standards, in all material respects.

An engagement review consists of reading the financial statements or information submitted by the reviewed firm and the accountant’s report thereon, together with required documentation, firm representations and certain other background information on the engagements submitted for review.

Who will administer my peer review?

The AICPA Peer Review Program is administered in cooperation with the state CPA societies who elect to participate.

Firms required to register with AND be inspected by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB) will have their peer reviews administered by the AICPA National Peer Review Committee (NPRC).

Firms that are not required to be inspected by the PCAOB and firms with no public company audit clients will have their peer reviews administered by the state CPA society in the state in which their main office is located. However, if your firm issues any engagements purporting to have been conducted under PCAOB auditing standards, as opposed to auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (i.e., U.S. GAAS), your review will be administered by the NPRC.

Non-AICPA member firms may enroll with the Illinois CPA Society, the AICPA or any other administering entity approved by the Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation (IDFPR).

What happens if my firm is engaged to perform an audit after my engagement review has been completed?

When a firm, subsequent to the year-end of its engagement review, performs an engagement that would require it to have a system review, the firm should (a) immediately notify the Society's Peer Review Department and (b) undergo a system review within eighteen months of the year-end of the engagement (within eighteen months of the report date if an attestation engagement) or by the firm's next scheduled due date, whichever is earlier. Firms that fail to notify the Society of the performance of such engagement will be required to have a system review with a year-end that includes such engagement. The firm's subsequent peer review will be due three years and six months from this peer review year-end.

Can my system review be performed at a location other than my office?

Interpretation No. 8-1 to the Revised Standards states that "If the review can be reasonably performed at the reviewed firm's office, it should be. Although certain planning procedures may be performed at the peer reviewer's office, it is expected that a majority of the peer review procedures, including the review of engagements, testing of functional areas, interviews, and concluding procedures should be performed at the reviewed firm's office.

However, it is recognized that there are situations that make an on-site peer review cost prohibitive or extremely difficult to arrange, or both. In these situations, if the firm and reviewer mutually agree on the appropriateness and efficiency of an approach to the peer review such that it can be performed at a location other than the reviewed firm's office, then the reviewer can request the administering entity's approval to perform the review at a location other than the reviewed firm's office. This request should be made prior to the commencement of fieldwork, and the firm and reviewer should be prepared to respond to the administering entity's inquiries about various factors that could affect their determination."

When should my firm's peer review take place?

Your review should be arranged in advance and take place at a time mutually acceptable and convenient to both you and the reviewer. A reviewer will not arrive at your firm's office unannounced nor should the review begin unless approved in advance by the Society's Peer Review Department.

Please note that your firm's peer review must be scheduled sufficiently ahead of your firm's due date to allow time for submission of all peer review documents to the Society's Peer Review Department prior to the due date. The due date is noted on the front page of your firm's scheduling information form. The reviewer has up to 30 days to get the report and Finding for Further Consideration (FFC) Form(s), if any, to you following the exit conference. If the peer review report includes deficiencies or significant deficiencies, you have an additional 30 days to submit your letter of response to the Society. However, all submissions must be made before your due date. It may be helpful to think of your due date like a tax deadline.

If you are unsure of your firm's due date, please contact the Society staff member responsible for scheduling your review.

How can I find out more about the peer review process?

Obtaining a current AICPA Peer Review Program Manual is a key tool for the successful completion of a peer review. The manual contains guidance on how to prepare for the peer review and includes the Standards that govern peer reviews under the Program. The manual also contains the forms and checklists that the reviewer will use to evaluate your firm's system of quality control and to review the firm's engagements. You will also find guidance on writing a response to peer review report deficiencies, significant deficiencies or Finding for Further Consideration (FFC) Form(s). The manual is available through a subscription service that is updated as changes are made. The manual may be ordered from the AICPA Member Satisfaction Department at (888) 777-7077 or www.cpa2biz.com.

STATISTICS ON REVIEWS ADMINISTERED BY ICPAS

What are the demographics of the firms enrolled in Illinois?

AICPA & ICPAS Peer Review Programs Illinois Firm Demographics As of September 30, 2013
Firm Size	Type of Review		Total	Percent of Firms With A&A	Percent of Enrolled Firms
	System	Engagement Or Report
Sole Practitioner	196	181	377	35%	33%

11+ Professionals	90	6	96	9%	8%
Total Firms Having Reviews	690	380	1,070	100%
Percent to Total	64%	36%
Firms With No A&A Practice			96		8%
Total Enrolled Firms			1,166		100%

What are the results of peer reviews administered by the Illinois CPA Society?

Since inception of the AICPA Quality Review Program in 1989, the Society has administered nearly 8,300 peer reviews. The breakdown by opinion is as follows:

Opinion	Percent to Total
Pass (formerly referred to as “unmodified”)	83%
Pass with deficiencies (formerly referred to as “modified”)	13
Fail (formerly referred to as “adverse”)	4
	100%

See pages 22 and 23 for more information on the types of opinions issued on peer reviews.

COST INFORMATION

How much will this cost me?

Direct costs

Your direct peer review costs will have two components: (1) an annual administrative fee paid to the Illinois CPA Society to cover the costs of running the Program and (2) the fee paid to the peer reviewer for the actual review. Fees paid to the peer reviewer can vary greatly depending on the nature of your practice. Your firm's client demographics have a greater impact on the cost of your review than firm size. For instance, a sole practitioner whose practice is 70% accounting & auditing and 30% tax work, and who conducts several audits of governmental entities, will have a more costly peer review than a firm with ten professionals performing mostly compilation and review engagements.

Indirect costs

There are also indirect costs associated with preparing your firm for the review and subsequent monitoring procedures. However, preparation costs can be controlled and kept to a minimum, especially if your system of quality control and records are in good order. If however your firm finds the opposite is true, you should consider the time well spent since making needed changes may result in providing better services to your clients, and in most cases, providing those services more efficiently. At the very least, preparation costs should diminish after your first review as you establish better quality control procedures.

Engagement Reviews

For firms performing only compilation engagements, the Society's Peer Review Department offers a CART program whereby experienced reviewers perform a number of peer reviews on specific one to three day periods approximately every month outside of busy season. Firms must schedule their reviews timely to choose this program.

Reviewers are paid on an hourly basis by the Society for actual time spent reviewing engagements. In turn, firms are billed on an hourly basis by the Society for the reviewer's time. Time spent in gathering engagement documents for the reviewers, telephone, copying, report production, etc. is absorbed by the Society. Hourly rates and minimum fees for fiscal year ending March 31, 2014 are as follows:

	2014
Hourly rate	$175
Minimum fee	$350

Based on the number of engagements required to be reviewed, the estimated range of hours in which the review should be performed is as follows:

Number of Engagements	Estimated Hours
1	2 – 4
2	3 – 5
3	4 – 6

These estimates include the time spent by the reviewer planning the review, performing the review, communicating with the reviewed firm, and finalizing the report and working papers on the review. They also assume that the firm is prompt in submitting all required information and engagements and that the peer review contact will be available on the designated review date to answer questions and discuss any deficiencies noted by the reviewer. Failure to submit the reports, financial statements and completed engagement questionnaires by the due date stated in your engagement letter, will result in a late charge of $50.

Payment Schedule

Fifty percent of the estimated fee must be paid before a CART review can begin. A minimum deposit of $340 is required.

Annual State Society Administrative Fees

The state society administrative fees for fiscal year ending March 31, 2014 are based on the following formula —

- | | | |
|-----|---|----------|
| (1) | Flat fee charged to firms with accounting or auditing practice: | $ 140 |
| (2) | Plus a per-professional charge of: | $ 65 |
| (3) | With a maximum cap of: | $ 1,500 |

OR

- | | | |
|-----|---|-------|
| (4) | If you are a firm that does not perform any accounting or auditing services, a flat fee of: | $ 25 |
|-----|---|-------|

The per-professional charge begins after the first professional. For example, a sole practitioner with no professional staff will pay the flat fee of $140. A firm with two professionals will pay $205, the $140 flat fee plus $65 for the second professional.

Late Fee

Firms that fail to submit information necessary to schedule their review by the requested date will be charged a $50 late fee when the second request for the information is generated.

Reinstatement Fee

If for any reason a firm rejoins the AICPA Peer Review Program or Illinois CPA Society Peer Review Program after it had previously been dropped or terminated from either program, the following reinstatement fee must be paid to the Illinois CPA Society prior to reinstatement in either program:

- | | |
|--|---------|
| Sole practitioner, with no professional staff | $ 500 |
| Sole practitioner and firms, with professional staff | $1,000 |

How do I count the number of professionals?

A firm should count as professionals all CPAs and other individuals performing accounting and auditing services. This includes all partners, shareholders, members, proprietors, etc. It also includes all full and part-time staff and per diem employees if they are doing professional level work in accounting or auditing. You may use full-time equivalents for more than one part-time staff or per diem employee.

Are there any ways to reduce the costs of my peer review?

Yes. The best ways to reduce costs are —

- Have complete, accurate information available for the reviewer early enough so that the review can be completed by the review due date - 30 to 40 days before the review is set to begin.
- Prepare for the review early by making sure everyone in the firm understands the importance of performing engagements “by the book,” properly documenting engagement planning issues, key procedures and conclusions, etc.
- Fewer engagement deficiencies and the reviewer’s ability to evaluate what was done without waiting for engagement staff to recount what they did from memory result in fewer reviewer hours and lower costs.
- Solicit proposals from more than one firm.
- Correctly calculate your firm’s accounting and auditing hours on engagements. Proposals are based on these hours. Do not include hours spent on taxes, consulting, payroll or bookkeeping services.
- In certain circumstances, you may be eligible under Interpretation No. 8-1 of the Revised Standards, Performing System Reviews Performed at a Location Other Than the Reviewed Firm’s Office to bring files, reports, and other materials ordinarily reviewed on a system review to the reviewer’s office or another agreed upon location. Such an arrangement must be approved by the Society’s Peer Review Department prior to commencement of the review.
- If your firm has received a report rating of “pass,” it may participate in the Program as a reviewing firm and members of your firm may participate as peer reviewers. Firms use these revenues to offset the costs of their own peer review, and many reviewers believe the experience and knowledge gained from being involved in the peer review process benefits their own firms.
- Firms in the same geographic area can "piggy-back" their reviews with the same reviewer and thus split travel costs.

Do I have to pay the state administrative fee?

Yes. Firms that choose not to pay this fee will be removed from the Program by the AICPA and individual CPAs working at the firm will not be allowed to have, or retain AICPA membership.

Non-AICPA member firms will be removed from the Program which may impede their ability to renew or retain their Illinois CPA license(s).

PREPARING YOUR QUALITY CONTROL SYSTEM

How do I develop a quality control system?

First, you should place someone in charge of your quality control procedures and preparation for the review. Next, decide how important your accounting and auditing practice is to your firm. Doing just one engagement under the SASs and/or examinations of prospective financial information under the SSAEs will require you to have a system review. You may wish to alter the type of services you provide if you are doing a small number of these engagements.

The remaining steps are straightforward, but can potentially take time —

1. Review the relevant professional literature and other sources to understand the six quality control elements (effective January 1, 2009) (See Appendixes A & B).
2. Summarize and evaluate your current policies and procedures in each of the six areas. For each area ask yourself the following —
 - a) Is the material (e.g., form, checklist, write-up) current, or is it out of date?
 - b) Is the material able to be updated by the firm or through other publications or sources?
 - c) Does it provide an adequate level of quality?
 - d) Is it appropriate for a firm of our size and our practice?
 - e) Does it satisfy the requirements of Statement of Quality Control Standard No. 8?
3. Implement monitoring procedures to identify and communicate circumstances that may necessitate changes to or the need to improve compliance with your system of quality control and professional standards.
4. A firm should have a system of quality control and an effective means of communicating that system to its staff in writing, but it does not need a separate quality control document. To facilitate the review process, firms having system peer reviews are asked to complete a brief questionnaire about their system of quality control before the review begins. A copy of the questionnaire will be provided to the firm when the arrangements for the review are finalized. If properly completed and “kept evergreen,” this questionnaire can serve to document your firm’s system of quality control.
5. Evaluate whether you should develop formal documents for quality control, accounting and auditing procedures, and/or personnel policies (for smaller firms this may be one simple document). Remember the key is to have workable, consistent documents. See Appendix A for organizations that sell programs you can tailor for your firm.

Most firms have rough edges and have areas that could be improved. The review will help you identify these areas before they become significant problems.

CHOOSING A REVIEW TEAM

What types of review teams are available to do my review?

You may choose the type of review team you would like to conduct your firm's peer review. There are three choices:

For system and engagement reviews, you have two options:

*Firm-On-Firm Review*¹— You hire another qualified CPA firm to conduct the review. This option gives you a degree of personal assurance that the reviewer's qualifications fit your firm's needs. It also gives you more control over the cost of the review.

Association Review — You ask the association to which your firm belongs to assemble a review team. That association must be authorized by the AICPA Peer Review Board to assemble such review teams.

For reviews of firms performing only compilation engagements, you have a third choice:

CART (Committee-Appointed Review Team) Review — The Society hires the reviewer and prepares an engagement letter that includes an estimate of the number of hours it will take to perform the review and the estimated fee. To protect the other participants in the program, the Society requires you to pay 50 percent of the estimated total fee before the review begins.

How does the AICPA national peer review database work?

The AICPA maintains a database of individuals interested in serving as reviewers. All reviewers involved in the AICPA practice-monitoring programs must be listed in the database. The database lists information the individual provides to the AICPA on a Reviewer Resume Form. The database includes information such as the individual's firm, the program to which his or her firm belongs, the last training course attended, the industries in which the individual has expertise and how that expertise was obtained. Reviewers are asked to update this information every year. Information on the database is available to state CPA societies for assembling CART reviews and for verifying the qualifications of firm-on-firm and association reviewers.

Who can perform a peer review?

Appendix C lists the qualifications to be a reviewer for the two different types of reviews. A reviewer must be qualified and registered in the AICPA national peer review database before he/she can conduct a review.

¹ Includes a firm in the same association of CPA firms.

Who is responsible for making sure the review team is qualified to perform my firm's peer review?

You are. No matter which type of review you choose, the Society will compare the scheduling information provided by your firm with information provided by the reviewer on his/her reviewer resume form to determine whether the review team appears to have the qualifications required by the peer review program standards. However, since you have the actual contact with the reviewer and pay for the review, you must make the final determination. The reviewer needs to not only have experience in the right industries, but he or she must have the right amount and type of experience. For example, a reviewer with expertise in various industries may have enough governmental experience to perform a peer review of a firm with one small governmental audit. But the same reviewer may not have enough experience to perform a review beneficial to a firm with a heavy concentration in governmental audits.

Is there an easy way to "match" the reviewer's experience with my firm's specialty areas?

Yes. Each firm is asked to complete a scheduling information form about six months prior to the scheduled review date. The form asks you to mark areas in which your firm practices as well as industries in which over ten percent of the firm's auditing and attestation hours are concentrated. Reviewers are asked on their "Reviewer Resume Form" to mark, from the same list, areas where they believe they have sufficient familiarity to be qualified as a reviewer. When you choose a firm to conduct your review, make sure that the team's experience covers the areas you marked on your scheduling information form. The review cannot take place until the review team's experience matches the areas and industry concentrations of your firm.

If my firm is eligible for an engagement review and I choose a CART review, what is the first step?

You should tell us you want a CART review at the time you complete the scheduling information form (sent to you about six months prior to your review). The form will ask you to estimate the number of engagements you expect to perform during the twelve-month period to be covered by your review. As soon as we receive this form, we begin scheduling your CART review.

If I choose a CART review, do I have any control over who is selected to perform my review?

Yes. You may tell the Society in advance if there is someone on the list of reviewers selected for this program with whom you wish to exclude from performing your review. However, one of the reviewers on the list must be acceptable for you to select a CART review.

If I choose a firm-on-firm review, how do I find a qualified firm to perform my peer review?

There are a number of ways to find qualified reviewers. First, look to the directory of firms listed in this booklet. Firms have also found reviewers by asking members of their MAP Forum Groups and/or firm associations for recommendations. When choosing a reviewer, you should decide if you want a firm from the same state or from a different region of the country. If you choose the latter option, you may need to contact the appropriate state CPA society or practitioners in that region for recommendations. Finally, many firms direct market their peer review services and you'll learn about them through the mail or other advertising.

Next, develop a list of firms that interest you and arrange for interviews. Some of the questions you should ask include —

1. Has your firm been reviewed? What was the outcome? You may wish to read the firm's peer review report to examine the firm's quality.
2. How many qualified reviewers and team captains does the firm have and do their qualifications match my areas of specialties?
3. Will the firm view me as a client?
4. Can the firm meet my timing and scheduling requirements?
5. Has the reviewer attended the appropriate AICPA reviewer training course?
6. Ask for references from the firm on other reviews it has conducted. When talking to these references make sure that the review was conducted professionally and efficiently. Also did the team share helpful insights or did they just complete checklists? Most firms find reviews to be more rewarding if there is an informal exchange of information.
7. Will the firm work out a budget for the review? Many firms quote fees at a time and expense rate not to exceed a certain dollar amount. You don't want to be surprised at the end of the review with a bill larger than you expected.
8. What is the firm's attitude toward doing reviews? Do I feel comfortable with it?

Finally, select a firm and notify the Society of the actual date of the review, the firm's name and AICPA number, and the team member(s) names and AICPA numbers.

If I've already arranged or plan to arrange for another firm or association to perform my peer review, do I need to notify the Illinois CPA Society?

Absolutely!! THE REVIEW MAY NOT TAKE PLACE UNTIL WE HAVE CONFIRMED THAT THE REVIEW TEAM IS QUALIFIED TO CONDUCT THE REVIEW. We will provide you with a simple form to complete which tells us information about the team, such as the name of the reviewing firm and the members of the review team, the date the review will begin, and the date of the exit conference. The Society should also be promptly notified of any changes in this information. We encourage you to submit this information as soon as practicable, but certainly no later than 60 days prior to your review. After receiving this form, we'll notify the reviewer that they are approved and may start to gather the information needed to perform the review. In fact, your reviewer is required to confirm that the Society has been notified about your arrangements before he or she starts the review. Your reviewer will need this information at least 60 days prior to your review due date.

PREPARING FOR THE REVIEW

When should my firm's peer review be completed?

Your firm's review due date is reflected —

- On the letter acknowledging your firm's original enrollment in the AICPA Peer Review Program
- In the committee acceptance letter related to your firm's prior peer review
- On page 1 of the Information Required for Scheduling Reviews form

The due date is the date by which all peer review documents must be submitted to the Society. To complete the review on time, you need to start the review two to three months before the due date. You should plan ahead so that the review takes place at a convenient time for your firm. For example, if you have a heavy tax practice and your due date falls between January and April, you should plan to start the review in September or October to make sure it is completed before your busy season begins.

What if my firm cannot complete its review by the due date?

If your firm cannot have its review on time, a written extension request should be made to the Society. The request should be made at least sixty days before the due date. Explain why your firm cannot have its review on time and offer an alternative date for the review. The Society considers extension requests on a case-by-case basis. Extensions beyond the end of the calendar year will not be granted except in extreme circumstances. Extensions are not granted simply because a firm believes it needs more time to prepare for the review.

For firm performing engagements subject to Government Auditing Standards (GAGAS), standards require the audit organization (i.e., firm or sole practitioner) to “obtain an external peer review at least once every 3 years that is sufficient in scope to provide a reasonable basis for determining whether, for the period under review, the reviewed audit organization's system of quality control was suitably designed and whether the audit organization is complying with its quality control system in order to provide the audit organization with reasonable assurance of conforming with application professional standards.”

GAGAS standards also indicate that “The first peer review for an audit organization not already subject to a peer review requirement covers a review period ending no later than 3 years from the date an audit organization begins its first audit in accordance with GAGAS. The period under review generally covers 1 year, although peer review programs may choose a longer review period. Generally, the deadlines for peer review reports are established by the entity that administers the peer review program. Extensions of the deadlines for submitting the peer review report exceeding 3 months beyond the due date are granted by the entity that administers the peer review program and GAO {emphasis added}”. If your firm performs government audits, don't forget to take these requirements into account when requesting an extension. The GAO is not required to recognize extensions granted by the AICPA.

What period should be covered by my peer review?

Your peer review should cover a one-year period mutually agreed upon by you and the team/review captain. Ordinarily, the review should be conducted within three or five months following the end of the year to be reviewed. Engagements selected for all types of reviews will be those with client year-ends during the year under review (except for attestation engagements which will be reports dated during the year under review).

Peer review program standards also anticipate that a firm will keep the same peer review year-end from review to review. If your peer review year-end is not convenient or an unnatural fit for your firm's practice, you may request from the Society in writing a permanent year-end change to one that is a more natural fit for your firm. Your letter should describe the reasons for your request.

When should I contact my system reviewer and what will he/she want from me?

A system review team consists of one or more individuals. One member of the review team is designated the team captain. Persons assisting the team captain are called team members. If there is only one reviewer that individual is still called team captain. You should contact your team captain and begin planning the review early enough to make sure all documents will be submitted to the Society by the firm's due date. The team captain will ask for —

1. The completed quality control questionnaire
2. Relevant manuals, checklists, etc. that your firm uses in its practice
3. Summary information on the nature of your practice — services provided, clients served, industry concentrations and the number of accounting and auditing hours for these clients/industries. This summary information does not have to identify your clients. You may use codes.
4. Personnel statistics — names, positions and years of experience in total and with the firm
5. A brief history of the firm and the number and location of offices
6. Any communications relating to allegations or investigations (including litigation) in the conduct of an accounting, audit or attestation engagement performed and reported on by the firm, whether the matter related to the firm or its professional personnel, within three years preceding the firm's current peer review year-end
7. A representation letter that contains negative assurance that the firm is not aware of any situations where the firm or its personnel has not complied with state board(s) of accountancy or other regulatory bodies' rules and regulations (including firm or individual licensing requirements) or has notified the reviewer of such situations
8. Any other pertinent information

Based on this information, the team captain will make a preliminary selection of the offices and engagements he or she intends to review. The initial selection of engagements to be reviewed will be provided no earlier than two weeks prior to the commencement of the review. This should provide ample time to enable the firm (or office) to assemble the required client information and engagement documentation before the review team commences the review. However, at least one engagement from the initial selection to be reviewed will be provided to the firm once the review commences and not provided to the firm in advance. This engagement should be the firm's highest level of service and should not increase the scope of the review.

All engagements performed and issued by the firm should be available to the team captain at the start of fieldwork.

What if my client does not want their financial statements reviewed by the peer reviewer and/or I have other reasons for excluding an engagement from the review?

Firms may have legitimate reasons for excluding an engagement from the scope of their peer review. The AICPA Peer Review Board has determined that the following explanations are reasonable for exclusion of an engagement from the review –

- The client is subject to litigation
- The client will not permit the firm to make the engagement available

In these situations, the reviewed firm should submit a written statement to the Society's Peer Review Department, prior to commencement of the review, indicating it (a) plans to exclude an engagement(s) from the peer review selection process, (b) the reasons for the exclusion and (c) that it is requesting a waiver from the scope limitation in the peer review report. The Society will decide if the reviewed firm's request is reasonable and whether a waiver should be granted.

The AICPA Peer Review Board has determined that the following explanations are unacceptable reasons –

- The engagement working papers are in a warehouse
- The firm no longer performs the audit for that client (and still has access to the documentation)
- The firm decided to no longer perform audits
- The engagement was selected during the firm's last peer review
- The partner on that engagement will not be available during the peer review
- The firm no longer performs engagements in that industry

These reasons will result in a scope limitation. A peer review report with a rating of pass with deficiencies will ordinarily be issued when the scope of the review is limited by conditions that preclude the application of one or more review procedures considered necessary in the circumstances and the review team cannot accomplish the objectives of those procedures through alternate procedures.

What should my firm do to prepare for its subsequent peer review?

In preparing for its next review, your firm should —

- Read the report and, if applicable, findings for further consideration (FFC) forms issued in connection with your firm's prior review and your firm's letter of response thereto, and be certain that your firm has taken the appropriate actions.
- Continually monitor the firm's system of quality control and document this monitoring as required by the Quality Control Standards.
- Prepare the appropriate quality control policies and procedures questionnaire.

HAVING THE REVIEW

How are engagements selected for a system review?

Under the peer review standards, your review team must select at least one of the following types of engagements, if performed by your firm —

- Engagements subject to the Yellow Book and/or OMB Circular A-133
- Audits of financial institutions subject to FDICIA (total assets in excess of $500 million)
- Audits of employee benefit plans subject to ERISA
- Audits of carrying broker-dealers
- Examination of service organizations (SOC1 or SOC2 reports)

Other considerations include —

- Engagements in which there is significant public interest, such as financial and lending institutions and specialized industries
- Engagements that are large, complex, or higher risk or that are the reviewed firm's initial audits of clients
- A cross-section of your firms accounting and auditing practice
- Engagements required to be selected under other regulatory requirements

How are engagements selected for engagement reviews?

Under the peer review standards, engagements will be selected based on the following guidelines —

- One engagement should be selected from each area of service performed by the firm:
 - Review of historical financial statements
 - Compilation of historical financial statements with disclosures
 - Compilation of historical financial statements that omit substantially all of the disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) or other financial reporting framework (FRF)
 - Attestation engagements
- One engagement should be selected from each owner of the firm responsible for the issuance of reports listed above.
- Ordinarily, at least two engagements should be selected for review.

The above criteria are not mutually exclusive; one of every type of engagement that an owner performs does not have to be reviewed as long as, for the firm taken as a whole, all types of engagements performed by the firm are covered. An attempt should be made to include clients operating in different industries.

The firm will be informed of the types of engagements to select and from which industries they should be selected. The firm will select the actual engagements and submit the reports, financial statements, any documentation required by professional standards (e.g., management representation letters, inquiry and analytical review checklists and working papers, etc.), along with an engagement questionnaire for each selection, to the reviewer within 30 days of being notified of the types to select. The peer reviewed firm will also submit a firm representation letter and copies of any communications relating to allegations or investigations. If the firm selected a CART engagement review, these materials will be sent to the Society's Peer Review Department rather than to the reviewer.

What does a system review team look for?

The team will evaluate your firm's system of quality control. They want to make sure that your system is properly designed and that you are complying with your system. They will —

- Review selected engagements, including the working paper files and reports, to evaluate your conformity with professional standards and compliance with relevant firm quality control policies and procedures
- Interview firm professional staff at various levels and, if applicable, other persons responsible for a function or activity to assess their understanding of and compliance with the firm's quality control policies and procedures
- Obtain other evidential matter as appropriate, for example, by review of selected administrative or personnel files, correspondence files documenting consultation on technical or ethical questions, files evidencing compliance with CPE requirements, and the firm's library

What is included in an engagement review?

An engagement review consists only of reading selected financial statements or information, the accountant's report thereon as well as certain documentation required by professional standards, together with certain written representations by your firm and copies of communications related to allegations or investigations. These reviews do not include a review of the firm's administrative or personnel files, interviews of firm personnel or other procedures normally performed on a system review.

What if I don't agree with the review team's conclusions?

The reviewer will inform you of any matters noted during the peer review, and will generally document such items on a form entitled, "Matter for Further Consideration (MFC) Form." You will have the opportunity to discuss the identified matters during the peer review and to respond in writing concerning the matters on the response section of the MFC form.

Because peer review is a subjective process, there may be differences of opinion between you and the reviewer as to whether a finding or deficiency exists and/or how it is reported in the review. In such circumstances, ask the reviewer to cite the applicable section(s) in professional standards that supports his or her conclusion. Ordinarily, disagreements are resolved by the exit conference. If you are still not satisfied with the reviewer's conclusions, you or your reviewer should consult with the Society's Peer Review Department. If the disagreement is not resolved, you should cite applicable section(s) of professional standards that support your views on the FFC Form(s) or, in the case of a pass with deficiencies or fail report, in your formal, written letter of response. The Society's Peer Review Report Acceptance Committee will attempt to resolve the disagreement.

Many professional standards require the use of professional judgment; accordingly, you should not assume that the reviewer's interpretation is always the correct one. It is in your best interest to read the applicable section of professional standards to broaden your knowledge of the subject matter and verify that the finding or deficiency is applicable to the particular situation.

TYPES OF REPORTS

What types of peer review reports are issued on system reviews?

There are three opinions that can be issued on the firm's system of quality control – pass, pass with deficiencies or fail.

Pass

A report rating of pass is issued when the review team believes that the reviewed firm's system of quality control is appropriately designed and being complied with to provide the firm reasonable assurance of complying with professional standards.

A pass report may be accompanied by one or more Finding for Further Consideration (FFC) forms if the reviewer noted matters that he or she believed resulted in conditions being created in which there was more than a remote possibility that the firm would not conform with professional standards.

Pass with deficiencies

A report rating of pass with deficiencies is issued when the review team believes the reviewed firm's system is appropriately designed and being complied with to provide the firm reasonable assurance of complying with professional standards except for one or more deficiencies noted by the reviewer. A pass with deficiencies report indicates that there are some failures to adhere to professional standards. The reasons for the pass with deficiencies rating and recommendations will be included in the body of the report.

The pass with deficiencies report may be accompanied by one or more Finding for Further Consideration (FFC) forms if the reviewer noted other matters that were not considered of sufficient significance to affect the opinion expressed in the report.

Fail

A report rating of fail is issued when the review team believes the firm's system is not appropriately designed or being complied with to provide the firm reasonable assurance of complying with professional standards. A fail report indicates that there are several significant failures to adhere to professional standards. The reasons for the fail report and recommendations will be included in the body of the report.

The fail report may be accompanied by one or more Finding for Further Consideration (FFC) forms if the reviewer noted other matters that were not considered of sufficient significance to affect the opinion expressed in the report.

What types of peer review reports are issued on engagement reviews?

Like a system review, there are three types of reports that can be issued on an engagement review – pass, pass with deficiencies and fail.

Pass

A report rating of pass is issued when the reviewer believes the reports submitted for review were in conformity with professional standards. A pass report may be accompanied by one or more Finding for Further Consideration (FFC) forms if the reviewer noted other departures from professional standards that were not deemed to be significant but that should be considered by the reviewed firm in evaluating its quality control policies and procedures.

Pass with deficiencies

A report rating of pass with deficiencies is issued when:

1. The firm did not adhere to generally accepted accounting principles or other financial reporting framework (FRF). This failure could have a significant effect on the user's understanding of the financial information.
2. A misleading report has been issued on a compilation, review, or attestation engagement.
3. There is a failure to obtain a management representation letter or document the matters covered in the accountant's inquiry and analytical procedures on a review engagement
4. There is a failure to document other matters required to be documented by professional standards.
5. There are other departures from professional standards noted in a significant number of engagements submitted for review that individually may not be considered a significant departure from professional standards but collectively would warrant the issuance of a pass with deficiencies report.

The reasons for the pass with deficiencies report and recommendation will be included in the body of the report. A pass with deficiencies report may be accompanied by one or more Finding for Further Consideration (FFC) forms if the reviewer noted other departures from professional standards that were not deemed to be significant but that should be considered by the reviewed firm in evaluating its quality control policies and procedures.

Fail

A report rating of fail is issued when all of the engagements submitted for review had significant departures from professional standards. The reasons for the fail report and recommendations will be included in the body of the report. A fail report may be accompanied by one or more Finding for Further Consideration (FFC) forms if the reviewer noted other departures from professional standards that were not deemed to be significant but that should be considered by the reviewed firm in evaluating its quality control policies and procedures.

What types of follow-up actions or implementation plans are required on peer reviews?

The objective of a peer review is to help improve the quality of your practice. When deficiencies are noted, the firm is expected to identify and take corrective measures to prevent the same type of deficiencies from recurring in the future. Some type of corrective action or implementation plan is often required by the Society's Peer Review Report Acceptance Committee when your firm has repeat comments or deficiencies, or when you receive a peer review report rating of pass with deficiencies or fail. Depending on the particular circumstances, your firm may be asked to do one or more of the following:

- Attend certain CPE courses
- Submit its next monitoring report for approval by the Committee or team captain
- Allow the team captain to revisit your firm's offices or review a specific type of engagement issued subsequent to the peer review
- Accelerate your firm's next review within the next twelve to eighteen months

COMMITTEE REVIEW AND ACCEPTANCE

Who is responsible for submitting peer review documents to the Illinois CPA Society?

Your peer reviewer is responsible for submitting a copy of the report and supporting working papers to the Society within 30 days of the exit conference or by the firm's peer review due date, whichever is earlier. You are not required to submit anything to the Society unless your report had a peer review rating of pass with deficiencies or fail.

In that case, you are responsible for submitting a copy of the report along with your written response to the deficiencies described in the report to the Society within 30 days of its receipt from the peer reviewer or by your firm's peer review due date, whichever is earlier. Your firm's letter of response must be approved by your peer reviewer prior to submission to the Society.

Please also remember that it is your firm's peer review, and that you are ultimately responsible for ensuring all submissions are made on time.

When are the results of my peer review communicated to me?

The review team should communicate the results of the peer review at the exit conference. The exit conference is a meeting attended by senior members of your firm, the review team and possibly representatives from the Society and/or the AICPA. At the exit conference, your firm is entitled to be informed about any matters that may affect your peer review report or be included in any Finding for Further Consideration (FFC) forms.

When are the results of my system or engagement review final?

Once all of the peer review documents have been received from you or your reviewer as detailed above, your review will then undergo "technical review." This process ensures that your review team conducted the review according to the peer review standards and that they were neither too lenient nor too harsh. This step is done by one of the Society's technical reviewers, who will work with your reviewer to resolve any questions or problems that may arise during the evaluation of your review. The technical reviewer then prepares the review for committee approval.

Your review is not considered accepted until the Society's Peer Review Report Acceptance Committee has voted to accept the peer review documents and, if required, your firm has signed the letter from the committee agreeing to perform required corrective actions or implementation plan. This final step ensures that a panel of your peers agrees with the conclusions of the review team. Committee members recuse themselves from discussions when they have a conflict of interest or perceive to have a conflict of interest with respect to the reviewed firm or the review team members.

You can appeal the report acceptance committee's decision to the Society's Peer Review Executive Committee. If the Peer Review Executive Committee is unable to resolve the disagreement, they can refer the matter to the AICPA Peer Review Board. The decision at this level is final unless recommendation to remove AICPA membership is involved. In this case, the decision can be appealed to the AICPA Joint Trial Board.

You should not publicize the results of the review or distribute copies of the report to your personnel, clients or others until you have been advised that the report has been accepted by the Society's Peer Review Report Acceptance Committee. On a few occasions, report ratings have been changed from pass to pass with deficiencies or fail, and vice versa. The completion date for your review will be the date it is accepted by committee or, if your firm is required to complete certain corrective actions, the date your firm completes the corrective actions to the committee's satisfaction.

Ordinarily, it takes 60 to 90 days to process a review once we receive the peer review documents. This length of time is necessary because we strive to keep the administrative costs of the Program low.

What is the structure of the ICPAS Peer Review Report Acceptance Committee?

The Society's Peer Review Report Acceptance Committee consists of an Executive Committee and six report acceptance bodies (RABs). RABs are subcommittees consisting of five members that are charged with the acceptance of peer reviews. The Executive Committee is charged with appeals of RAB decisions, administrative and oversight matters. A minimum of three members must consider each review. The qualifications to be on the Committee are detailed in Appendix D. A member may not participate in any discussion or decision of a peer review of a firm when the member lacks independence or has a real or perceived conflict of interest (such as the reviewer's firm having performed or being a member of the team that performed the most recent or previous review).

Can my firm resign from the Program at any time?

A firm may resign from the Program as long as a peer review has not commenced and your firm submits a letter of resignation to the AICPA Peer Review Board or for non AICPA member firms, the Society's Peer Review Committee. A peer review commences when the review team begins field work on a system review or begins the review of engagements on an engagement review. Once a peer review commences, a firm may not resign from the Program unless it submits a letter waiving its right to a hearing and agrees to allow the AICPA to publish in such form and manner as the AICPA may prescribe the fact the firm has resigned from the Program.

If my firm is terminated from the Program, how can I get reinstated?

Your firm should submit a letter to the Society's Peer Review Department requesting reinstatement. The firm will be reinstated provided that the actions that caused the firm to be terminated have been waived or corrected to the satisfaction of AICPA and/or the Society's Peer Review Report Acceptance Committee. The AICPA may require a firm that has been terminated to have another review by the date originally assigned or within 90 days of reenrolling, whichever is earlier.

OTHER MATTERS

AICPA Risk Alerts – A Good Way to Keep Current

A good way to keep current on professional and industry developments is to obtain the AICPA audit risk alerts pertinent to your firm's practice. Each year, the AICPA publishes a general audit risk alert and risk alerts for various industries to advise auditors of current economic, industry and professional developments they should be aware of as they perform audits in the current period. Risk alerts also assist reviewers and firms in identifying high risk areas of audit engagements that should be reviewed during a peer review.

Risk alerts can be purchased by calling the AICPA's Member Satisfaction Department at 1-888/777-7077 or www.cpa2biz.com.

APPENDIX B

Six Elements of Quality Control (Effective January 1, 2009)

Leadership Responsibilities for Quality Within the Firm

The firm should promote an internal culture based on the recognition that quality is essential in performing engagements and should establish policies and procedures to support that culture. Such policies and procedures should require that the firm's leadership (managing partner or board of managing partners, chief executive officer, or equivalent) to assume ultimate responsibility for the firm's system of quality control.

Relevant Ethical Requirements

The firm should establish policies and procedure designed to provide it with reasonable assurance that the firm and its personnel comply with relevant ethical requirements. The AICPA Code of Conduct establishes the fundamental principles of professional ethics, which include:

- Responsibilities
- The public interest
- Integrity
- Objectivity and independence
- Due care
- Scope and nature of services

Acceptance and Continuance of Client Relationships and Specific Engagements

The firm should establish policies and procedures for the acceptance of client relationships and specific engagements, designed to provide the firm with reasonable assurance that it will undertake or continue relationships and engagements only where the firm:

- a. Has considered the integrity of the client, including the identity and business reputation of the client's principal owners, key management, related parties, and those charged with its governance, and the risks associated with providing professional services in the particular circumstances;
- b. Is competent to perform the engagement and has the capabilities and resources to do so; and
- c. Can comply with legal and ethical requirements.

Human Resources

The firm should establish policies and procedures designed to provide it with reasonable assurance that it has sufficient personnel with the capabilities, competence, and commitment to ethical principles necessary to perform its engagements in accordance with professional standards and regulatory and legal requirements, and enable the firm to issue reports that are appropriate in the circumstances. Such policies and procedures should address the following:

- Recruitment and hiring, if applicable;
- Determining capabilities and competencies;
- Assigning personnel to engagements, if applicable;
- Professional development; and
- Performance evaluation, compensation, and advancement.

Engagement Performance

The firm should establish policies and procedures designed to provide it with reasonable assurance that engagements are consistently performed in accordance with professional standards and regulatory and legal requirements, and that the firm or engagement partner issues reports that are appropriate in the circumstances. Required policies and procedures should address:

- a. Engagement performance,
- b. Supervision responsibilities, and
- c. Review responsibilities.

The firm should prepare appropriate documentation to provide evidence of the operation of each element of its system of quality control.

Documentation should be retained for a period of time sufficient to enable those performing monitoring procedures and peer review to evaluate the firm's compliance with its system of quality control, or for a longer period if required by law or regulation.

Monitoring

The firm should establish a monitoring process designed to provide it with reasonable assurance that the policies and procedures relating to the system of quality control are relevant, adequate, and operating effectively. This process should:

- a. include an ongoing consideration and evaluation of the firm's system of quality control, including inspection or a periodic review of engagement documentation, reports, and clients' financial statements for a selection of completed engagements;
- b. require responsibility for the monitoring process to be assigned to a partner or partners or other persons with sufficient and appropriate experience and authority in the firm to assume that responsibility; and
- c. assign the performance of monitoring the firm's system of quality control to qualified individuals.

² The firm is responsible for determining what type of engagements it performs. If the firm is uncertain of how to classify an engagement, it should consult its reviewer (if already selected), another CPA firm that performs a similar engagement, the AICPA Technical Hotline at 888/777-7077 or Paul Pierson, ICPAS Director of Professional Standards and Peer Review at 312 or 800 (in Illinois only) 993-0407 x236.

³ A firm that performs these engagements must have a system peer review.

⁴ A firm that performs these engagements as its highest level of service must, at a minimum, have an engagement review. The firm may optionally choose to have a system review.

⁵ A firm that performs these engagements as its highest level of service is not required to enroll in the peer review program.

APPENDIX F

DESCRIPTION OF ENGAGEMENTS INCLUDED IN THE DEFINITION OF AN ACCOUNTING AND AUDITING PRACTICE FOR THE AICPA PEER REVIEW PROGRAM

Statements on Auditing Standards (SASs)

Audit of Historical or Personal Financial Statements — The auditor performs procedures to provide him or herself with a basis for expressing an opinion as to the conformity of the client’s financial statements with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) or other financial reporting framework (FRF).⁶

*All Other Engagements Performed Under The SASs*⁶

Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services (SSARSs)

Review of Historical or Personal Financial Statements — The accountant performs inquiry and analytical procedures to provide him or herself with a reasonable basis for expressing limited assurance that there are no material modifications needed to be made to the financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with GAAP or other FRF.⁷

Compilation of Historical or Personal Financial Statements — The accountant presents in the form of financial statements, information that is the representation of management without expressing any opinion/assurance as to their conformity with GAAP or other FRF.⁷

Compilation of Historical or Personal Financial Statements that Omit Substantially All Disclosures, However Selected Disclosures are Presented — Same as in the preceding description except that selected disclosures are presented with the financial statements.⁷

Compilation of Historical or Personal Financial Statements that Omit Substantially All Disclosures — Same as in the two preceding descriptions except that no disclosures are presented with the financial statements.⁷

“Reportless Compilation” — Compilation performed under the SSARS No. 19 communication options where no report is issued.⁸

⁶ A firm that performs these engagements must have a system peer review.

⁷ A firm that performs these engagements as its highest level of service must, at a minimum, have an engagement review. The firm may optionally choose to have a system review.

⁸ A firm that performs these engagements as its highest level of service is not required to enroll in the peer review program.

Statements on Standards for Attestation Engagements (SSAEs)

Examination of Prospective Financial Statements — The accountant evaluates the preparation of the prospective financial information, the supporting underlying assumptions, and the conformity of the presentation with AICPA guidelines, in order to provide him or herself with a reasonable basis for expressing an opinion as to the conformity of the financial forecast or projection with AICPA guidelines and on the reasonableness of the assumptions.^{6,9}

Compilation of Prospective Financial Statements — The accountant assembles the prospective financial information and considers whether the assumptions or presentation are obviously inappropriate without expressing any assurance on the financial forecast or projection or the underlying assumptions.^{7,9}

Agreed-Upon Procedures of Prospective Financial Statements — The accountant performs procedures that have been agreed to by the specified users to the financial forecast or projection and issues a report describing the procedures applied and the results of their application.^{7,9}

Agreed-Upon Procedures — The accountant performs procedures that have been agreed to by the specified users to specified elements, accounts or items of a financial statement and issues a report describing the accountant's procedures and findings.⁷

Examination of Written Assertions — The accountant performs substantial procedures to provide the accountant with a basis for expressing an opinion about whether the assertions are presented in conformity with the criteria.⁶

Review of Written Assertions — The accountant performs inquiries and analytical procedures to provide the accountant with a basis for expressing limited assurance that nothing caused the accountant to believe the presentation did not conform to the presentation criteria.⁷

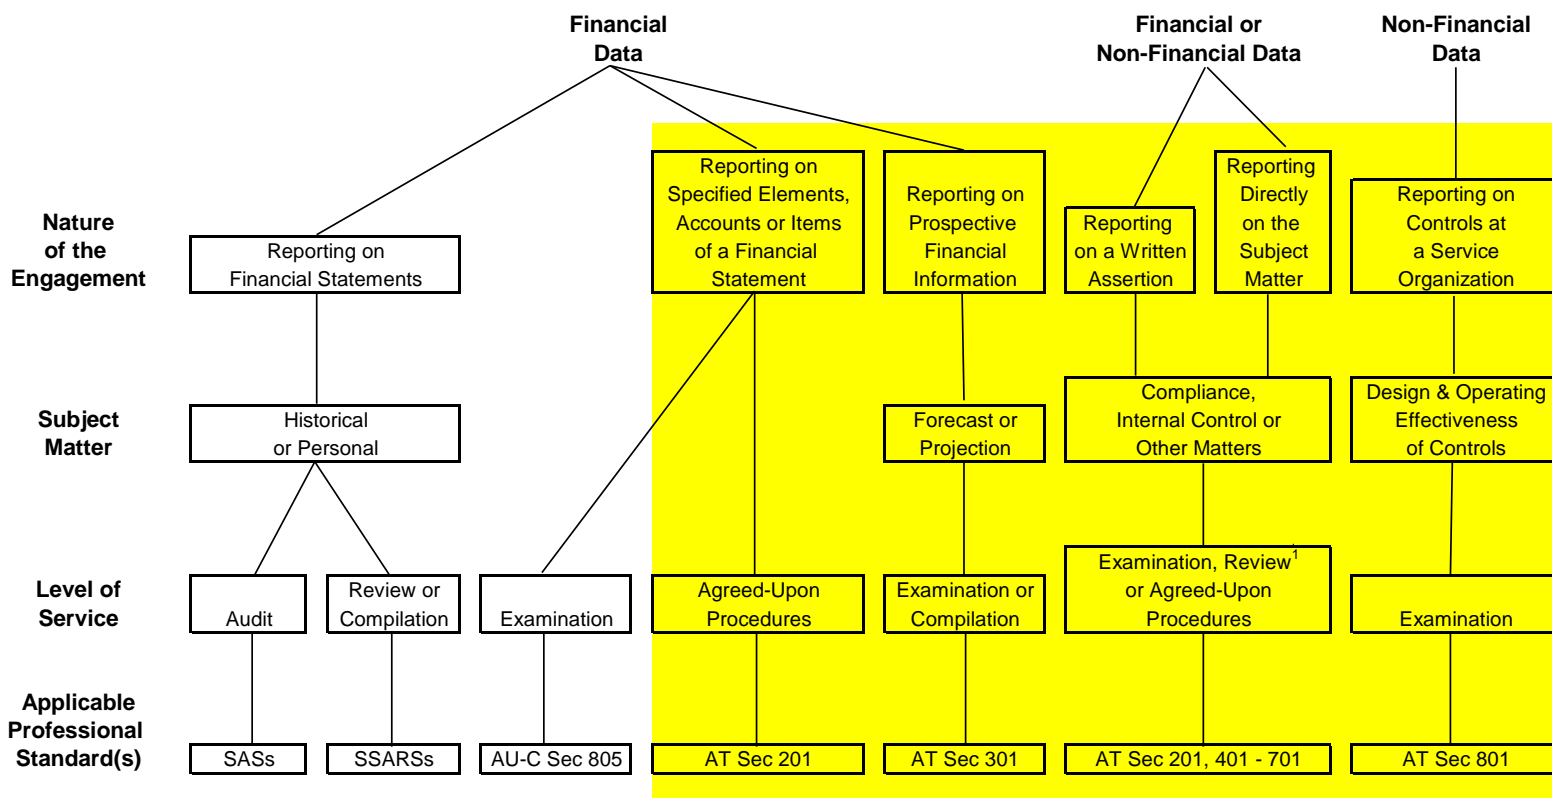

Agreed-Upon Procedures of Written Assertions — The accountant performs procedures that have been agreed to by the specified users to specified matters and issues a report describing the procedures applied and the results of their application.⁷

Reporting on Controls at a Service Organization — In a type 1 report, the service auditor expresses an opinion on management's description of a service organization's system and the suitability designed of the design of controls. In a type 2 report, the service auditor expresses an opinion on the same matters included in a type 1 report plus an opinion on the operating effectiveness of such controls.⁶

⁹ A financial forecast is prospective financial statements that present an entity's expected financial position, results of operations and cash flows. A financial projection is similar to a forecast except that it presents an entity's expected financial position, results of operations and cash flows, given one or more hypothetical assumptions.

Appendix G

DETERMINING THE APPLICABLE AICPA PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS FOR ATTESTATION AND OTHER MORE TRADITIONAL ACCOUNTING AND AUDITING ENGAGEMENTS

Definitions:

The shaded area represents engagements performed under the Statements on Standards for Attestation Engagements (SSAEs). An attestation engagement is defined as one in which a practitioner is engaged to issue or does issue an examination, review, or agreed-upon procedures report on certain subject matter (or on an assertion about the subject matter) that is the responsibility of another party. An assertion is a statement by the responsible party that the subject matter is in conformity with the criteria being used.

Some of the more common attestation engagements include:

- * Forecasts and projections (i.e., prospective financial statements)
- * Reporting on an Entity's Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting
- * Compliance Attestation
- * Reporting on Controls at a Service Organization (formerly SAS No. 70)

Attestation engagements do not include:

- * Any other engagement covered under the SASs or the SSARs
- * Consulting services covered under the Statement on Standards for Consulting Services (AICPA Professional Standards, vol. 3, CS sec. 100) -- fraud auditing is generally performed as a consulting service
- * Preparation of a Medicare cost report
- * Other engagements described in AT 101

Notes:

¹ The SSAEs prohibit a practitioner from issuing a review report on compliance or on the effectiveness of an entity's internal control over financial reporting. Those engagements must be an examination or agreed-upon procedures engagement.
